

17th biennial

Footwear Biomechanics Symposium

Oslo, Norway, July 23 – July 25, 2025

Sponsorship Prospectus

Invitation

It is our pleasure to invite you to partner with the 17th biennial Footwear Biomechanics Symposium (FBS 2025). The FBS 2025 conference will be held at the Norwegian School of Sport Sciences in Oslo, Norway on July 23 – 25, 2025. The conference brings together international experts from academia and industry to discuss the latest research and themes related to the biomechanics of footwear, from an athletic, clinical and functional perspective. Our sponsorship opportunities span from supporting social functions to recognizing scientific excellence with Award and Keynote support. We will strive to ensure we make sustainable choices when organizing and hosting FBS 2025.

Our Sponsorship Mission

It is our objective to provide simple, yet varied sponsorship opportunities, thus addressing the varied requirements of our partners. Please note that all the revenue generated from our sponsors will be used in order to help offset the following expenses:

- Provide affordable student registration rates
- Pay for emerging scientist awards
- Keynote speaker remuneration
- Social events and entertainment
- Support of student events (budget permitting)

Congress Details

Please visit our website (fbs2025.footwearbiomechanics.org) for additional details. This is currently under development and will be updated as more information becomes available.

If you are interested in any other type of sponsorship (beyond the outlined packages on the next pages), please let us know. We will do our best to make this happen!

Thank you for providing us with the opportunity to host your organization at FBS 2025 in Oslo, Norway.
